WASHINGTON, March 23.—Luttrell will to-morrow offer a resolution directing the Postmaster-General to suspend all payments on account of the Pacific coast mail contracts of Barlow, Sanderson and others, who he says are drawing money from the Department in advance of the fulfillment of their contracts. Luttrell says these parties have, in violation of law, been paid about $200,000 in advance, and he proposes to have the whole matter investigated with the view also of defeating a number of straw bids which he says have been put in by the same parties for prospective service on the Pacific coast.

GENERAL NOTES.

It is said that two Iowa lovers will sit up half the night with only one chair in the room; but that's easily explained to any one who has been there.

"Mono-poets" is the new name for persons who write but one bit of verse and then die. This isn't the kind of a poet that sends pieces to the papers.

It is said that a belle of our city gets but three hours' sleep per day during the fashionable season. An exchange thinks it is enough for her intellect.

When women war against rum and beer and close for aye each drinking place, then shall the salty, silent tear roll sadly down each lunch fiend's face.

A Delaware physician, sometime ago, grafted a piece of his own skin (white) on the body of a negro. It grew, but in three months was as black as the surrounding cuticle.

A Kentucky paper, in telling how a little boy got drowned while in swimming, says that after wading about for [illegible] "stepped off over his head." Now that was a careless thing to do. Little boys should be very careful not to step over their heads, for even if they do not get drowned they may break a leg.

A Massachusetts civil engineer and a New York Herald reporter are the principal characters in the new Verne romance to be published in Scribner's, and the story [illegible] prisoners of the late war escaping from blockaded Richmond in a balloon, and being blown away by a hurricane, 7,000 miles, to "The Mysterious Island" in the Pacific.

What's in a name? is a question often answered by the trite reply, "Little;" but there must have been something more in the name of John Laube, of Lauberies, or else Captain Raha, of the United States Army, would not have petitioned Congress for leave to resume it. He, being of noble German family, renounced his patronymic several years ago, in order to become an American citizen, and assumed the name of Raha. He has since discovered that it was necessary for him to renounce his title only, and petitioned Congress for permission to resume his family name, a petition which has been readily granted.

A Temperance Lecturer in Trouble.

NEVADA, Cal., March 24.—Dr. Haskell, of San Francisco, who is traveling through the State lecturing on temperance, and who styles himself the champion of the temperance cause, arrived here Sunday night. The different churches in the city adjourned to favor Dr. Haskell, who held forth to an immense audience at the theater. The lecture Sunday night was altogether out of taste and contained many slang phrases so vulgar and disgusting that many persons left the hall before the lecturer had finished. Last night the doctor delivered another lecture. During the lecture he called the attention of the audience to some young ladies who he said were whispering, and thereupon delivered a long tirade on what such young ladies would come to, which was very disgraceful and insulting to the young ladies and all respectable persons present. Many people left the theater, and the speaker was hissed down for his defaming remarks. At this point serious difficulty was anticipated, and it was only by the aid of the police and several ministers present that violence was prevented and order restored.

BENICIA, March 24.—To-day news flashed over the wires that the long continued fight in regard to the division of Solano county had culminated in favor of those who wished for a division. The vote passed the Assembly by 40 to 28. The vote in the Senate was 23 to 13. To say that our people are jubilant is but a slight tincture of their feelings of delight.

Two citizens of this place found Storey about an hour afterwards in a helpless condition and conveyed him here. The result of the injury has as yet not been ascertained.

The Apaches occupied a strongly fortified position high in the mountains, and first opened fire. Three soldiers were wounded. Major Randall and Capt. Hamilton narrowly escaped.

NEVADA.

HAMILTON, March 24.—On the 17th inst., at the ranch of D. W. [illegible], in Steptoe Valley, two men named Peter McLaughlin and William Sherman, employed on the ranch, got into a drunken quarrel, which resulted in McLaughlin stabbing Sherman in the side with a butcher knife, killing him instantly. McLaughlin was brought here and lodged in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Election for the Commons in British Columbia--Mining News.

LACONNER, W. T., March 24.—A Barkerville, B. C., dispatch of this date says: The election on Saturday was attended with but little excitement. The ballot boxes from the polling places are expected here Saturday, when they will be counted and the result declared. Out of the 84 votes polled here, Mr. Walker is said to have but 14. Mr. Thompson will probably leave next Sunday for Ottawa. The ballot is generally condemned in this district.

HOW ABOUT YAMHILL?

[illegible] the Bulletin [illegible] March [illegible] from North Yamhill over the signature of W. J. McC. [illegible] readers of the Bulletin are given to understand that [illegible] county is a very [illegible] affair. [illegible] latter is an [illegible] be seen by the [illegible] number [illegible] participated in that Primary Convention at this place as compared with the possible number of voters of all parties in this precinct, which he puts at two hundred [illegible] more than has ever been cast in the precinct at any election [illegible] there was any real causes for there being [illegible] number of that Convention. He did not state that the call [illegible] circulated in less than one quarter of the precinct, owing to the negligence of the parties that were supposed to be attending to it (this however he may not have known); nor did he inform his friends of the Bulletin that he and others had been using their best endeavors to prejudice the people against the movement by circulating false reports as to a supposed connection of the movement with the Order of Patrons of Husbandry; nor did he say anything about the half dozen or so of persons that stood round about making sport, lettering friends of the movement from taking the part which they had intended.

I do not know what rule of arithmetic he has brought into requisition for the occasion. Perhaps proportion. However, his figures ought to be right, as he has been a school teacher and should know how to do sums, and then he ought to know something about matters in general (including politics) in the county, as he has been a resident of the State and county for about two years and I think is getting pretty well acquainted with the citizens of this precinct. And this, we take for granted, is all that is necessary that he may be competent to [illegible] the people in general as to the proportion of the different political organizations of this county. And then again, I would not for a moment entertain a thought that this motive [illegible] purely honest, for it will be seen by reference that he has taken [illegible] the Bible, and that too, no doubt with no other intent than for his own moral benefit. I would say, however, that he would perhaps receive far more real benefit if he would select from the New Testament instead of the Old.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think that W. J. McC. will have to refresh his memory with some other rule of arithmetic to do his next "sum" by, in order to have one-eighth for his answer for an independent ticket has been nominated in this county that is admitted by all to be in the main a good one. The ticket has already a much stronger support than could be believed to be possible, if W. J. McC. were allowed alone to report the case. He will have occasion by the time the June election has rolled around to invest his "sum" and place the one-eighth or some other fraction but little larger on the other side from where he had it in his last "sum."

I think too, that I am safe in saying that there is not another man in this precinct that would think of taking up his pen to defend the Republican party through the columns of the Bulletin, for the simple reason that they would fear, with much consistency too, that they would be considered as endorsers of that organ and its managers in their corruption.

The feeling of this county is strongly with the independent movement, and there are hundreds of the best material of the county, of both political parties, who are every day so expressing themselves to those who are known to be true friends of the new party. Evidently it is only undue caution that prevents these parties from taking a square stand for what they are ready to admit at any time to be the correct principle to operate upon in the present campaign—honest men that they will go into and support a movement that will not be [illegible] by the votes of the people.

And then again there are some who are afraid to commit themselves to the movement, however much its objects may be [illegible], unless they could be quite sure that the ticket [illegible] in nomination would be elected. [illegible] generally office-seekers, who care but little where they stand so it be with the stronger party. [illegible] this class of individual, being in a dilemma indeed. They would be happy to serve the people, and would gladly accept nomination from any or all the parties in the field, were it not for the fear of being read out of the respective parties to which they have heretofore belonged. And this seems to be the policy of each of the old parties, to hold their political subjects (for such they certainly are) bound with tyrannical hand to await the decrees of their [illegible] all must [illegible] anything that is not dictated by old political leaders and wire-workers [illegible] under penalty of being crushed out of political existence [illegible] not. This appears to me to be one of the very best evidences of political corruption.

Each party professes to want only good men that are competent and honest to fill the offices, and nothing more. I believe it is not claimed that there is at present any direct issue of controversy between the two existing parties. All admit that the many corrupt acts that were put up and enacted into laws by the last Legislature should be repealed. All admit that we want better laws enacted to govern us than we now have; that we want both in State and county a more honest administration [illegible] but there is no disposition on the part of political leaders to unite [illegible] men as [illegible] likely to try to bring about the reforms that all seem to be so anxious for. The old party lines must be kept up at all hazards [illegible] afraid to accede to the popular demand or the honest laboring classes [illegible] fear to trust themselves to the [illegible] well knowing the disposition that [illegible] all probability would be [illegible]

In conclusion I will say that notwithstanding there was but a small vote cast at the North Yamhill Primary, Yamhill county is fully awake to the situation, and when her honest citizens meet at the polls next June they will not [illegible] go back on the principle of reform for which they are every day so zealous [illegible] contending.

A NEW PLAN FOR RETRENCHMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I believe every one [illegible] when I tell you that the great national cry of the day is retrenchment and reform. The reason for this is the enormous [illegible] in every [illegible] [illegible] high [illegible] regard to salaries and compensation—above [illegible] [illegible] producing power of the country [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] labor [illegible] [illegible] in favor of [illegible] and exorbitant [illegible] pension for public services in which [illegible] or farmer [illegible] of generosity and patriotism.

The evil we [illegible] particularly where [illegible] sharply than in Oregon, and the sharpest of all in Multnomah county, in the city of Portland, both West and East. After we except bankers, brokers and a few such fortunate persons, it has taken half of the net profits of the remainder of the taxpaying population to pay the tax (of State, county and school) in Multnomah county for 1873.

These suggestions are thrown out for the purpose of more forcibly introducing the object of reform as it relates especially to Multnomah county. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Legislature to this effect. It shall be discretionary with the citizens of [illegible] to [illegible] a petition [illegible] county [illegible] County Judge and Commissioners, and thus having a limited Hour County Court, they may by a majority vote of the citizens of any county authorize the County Court to let all the offices of [illegible] such as the Clerk, Sheriff, Treasurer [illegible] lowest responsible bidder by sealed proposals [illegible] and faithful performance of the [illegible] we have been [illegible] various [illegible] would be defective and inapplicable to the wants of the tax payers. If this county [illegible] serious objection to such a measure [illegible] in keeping with the resolution of the committee who drafted the platform of the late State Democratic Convention with regard to a State Printer [illegible] see why it should not work equally well in the case of Clerk, Sheriff, Treasurer, &c., in this county. Now I am sure that such a plan will deliver us from some of the very worst evils attendant on our elections. Firstly, it will cut off bribery at once. It is a well known fact that this has been in one shape or other resorted to to procure profitable elections in this county for quite a number of years. Secondly, we will get the office filled with a good man for little or no more than their services are actually worth, and we will get rid of county officers in a few years who being [illegible] in the brothers will be capable of doing the public service to better advantage [illegible] I think our municipal, county and State elections will be vastly more pure [illegible] than they now are.

AN OLD CITIZEN.

OF THE PEOPLE'S MOVEMENT.

IN SHORT CHAPTERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The success in the coming elections must [illegible] [illegible] coalition with any other party weakens its cause as an agricultural movement and [illegible] its powers for legislative [illegible]

WHEAT.

Until 1873 the price of wheat was from fifty to seventy-five cents per bushel average to the farmer. The profits of the transaction were realized by middlemen and the movers of the crops. Friedlander, in California, paid for the crop of 1872 [illegible] per cental, and sold it in Europe for $3 per cental. Out of the $1 50 the farmer paid sacking and moving to the seaport, which left him about 67 cents per bushel. Friedlander moved the wheat to Liverpool at a cost of about 70 cents per bushel, and thus speculated a solid dollar off of the farmer for every bushel.

IN 1873

Morgan & Sons of London, by advancing 75 cents per cental on stored crops, under arrangements made with Hegler, the Produce Department head of the organization of the Grangers, enabled the farmers to hold on to their crops until the middlemen were obliged to pay a fair price or to send their ships back under ballast. By this arrangement and exercise of their power in association and intelligence they realized some $2 80 per cental for the crop of 1873, which netted the farmer about $1 50 per bushel, and left Friedlander to count his profit per cental in his business, which was enough—and $6,000,000 was saved to the farmers.

THE ELECTION

In California demonstrated the power of the agricultural movement and broke the backs of both the old political parties. On a test vote for McKinstry, Independent, he was elected by a respectable plurality. That left both the old parties on the shelf, and if the movement [illegible] backwards, the farmers must see to it that they break the back of both the old parties in Oregon.

[illegible] WITH EITHER PARTY.

[illegible] price of wheat [illegible] at [illegible] a bushel. [illegible] of power and [illegible] politics, the middlemen and the carrier that they cannot [illegible] of the producer of his proper profits. In the Democracy [illegible] there is no help [illegible] of [illegible] shadows. When they meet in convention it is only to reiterate the [illegible] venerable State [illegible] and the amendments to the Constitution.

THE [illegible] PARTY

[illegible] carried in the breeches pocket of Ben Holladay. It is owned by Money, and is officered throughout from Senator to precinct, by the servants and tools of a lawless railroad corporation that openly boasts that its charter is above the Constitution, and its privileges secured beyond the reach of Legislative enactment, restriction or control. In other words, that while running the Legislature it procured concessions even of the people's sovereignty, which they can never resume, nor even by amendment alter or annul.

THE [illegible] MOVEMENT

Must keep strictly to itself. If it consents to deal at all with either of the old parties that [illegible] back to their [illegible] rank [illegible] [illegible] farmer [illegible] [illegible] power is secured to the farmer, no principle [illegible] established, the price of wheat is not raised [illegible]

[illegible]

For the third day [illegible] a famous article in Holladay's Bulletin a few days ago wherein it was proposed to nominate and elect farmers and to stand by the Republican [illegible] That is a nice way to say: "You take the men, but let us run them." [illegible] The Bulletin must think we are fools. What could we do in the Legislature [illegible] kept in the ruts. Could we pass laws regulating freights and fares? Could we put the railroad under proper legislative control? Could we pass any law protecting ourselves from monopoly and plunder? Our session would only be a repetition of the last farce Legislature. But the farmers know what they are about, and it amuses them to see the politicians floundering about in the mud and in the dark, and courting, offering their dirty favors, little knowing how well we are prepared to [illegible] them [illegible] and send them down the [illegible] the bed rocks.

Truly yours, &c.,

F. W. DAWSON.

A [illegible] sweep was trying to get a gratuity from an excessively dandified individual, who in resisting urged that he had no change, nothing but a twenty dollar bill. "I can get it for you!" said the youngster. On seeing the dandy thus [illegible] from fear of trusting him with a twenty dollar bill, he put it again, "If you doubt my honor, hold my broom!"

A little lad walking down Clinton street yesterday whistling the "Mulligan Guards," was accosted by a middle aged gentleman who asked him if he would be kind enough to tell him the name of that air, as he thought he had heard it once before when he was a boy. The young musician shot an astonished glance at the stranger and fled.—Brooklyn Argus.

A [illegible] miners who went to Montana to play [illegible] met with such [illegible] that they were obliged to disband and resume the hewing of wood in their native wilds.

Congress will take no action this session on the proposition to annex Northern Idaho to Washington Territory, but will wait until the Legislature of Idaho expresses itself on the subject.

The Intelligencer is not elated over the prospects of the Seattle railroad, and advises the citizens of that place to devote their money and time to developing the coal mines which are located near that place.

Next Friday night a grand literary entertainment will be given in the Puyallup valley by the Literary Society. The object is to enable the Association to purchase a cheap printing press and a small lot of type, so as to print many copies of their little paper instead of writing but one as now.

A rumor was current in Salt Lake City a few days ago that $100,000 had been collected and sent on to Washington to be used in defeating any legislation by Congress on the Utah question. The money is said to have come from Brigham, who boasts frequently that he could buy up Congressmen.

In the House, March 9th, Mr. Hazelton reported, from the Committee on Territories, a bill to amend an act entitled "An act granting the right of way to the Walla Walla and Columbia Railroad Company, and for other purposes," which was read a first and second time and ordered to be printed and recommitted.

A gentleman in Tacoma received a letter from an acquaintance at Fort Wrangel dated February 28th. The writer went up on one of the steamboats and says that the two [illegible] and Otter carried up 142 men. He places the number of men in the mines at 900 and states that provisions there cost 50 cents a pound.

A correspondent of the Deer Lodge (Montana) Northwest, gives the particulars of the success and efficiency of the Yellowstone expedition. It consists of 113 men, 2 pieces of artillery—one 12-pounder and one Parrott gun—22,000 rounds of fixed ammunition for rifles, 20 wagons, 800 horses and about 300 head of cattle. The men are all well armed with needle-guns, Sharp's and Springfield rifles.

The Olympia Courier says: "Register Brown and Receiver Stewart had a larger amount of business brought before them last Saturday than has come into the office in any two weeks during the last three months. As many of the cases were final proofs accompanied by payments for land, we feel that it may be taken as an indication of a loosening in the money market and of approaching better times financially."

The Tacoma Tribune of the 23d inst. says: Collector Garfielde received a telegram from the Postoffice Department yesterday informing him definitely that the contract for carrying the U. S. mails to Alaska had been awarded to him beyond recall. The view taken by the Department is that Mr. Garfielde will not be the contractor until after he begins the service, and that no objection is known to his retaining the Collectorship up to the last moment. Mr. Garfielde will endeavor to hold both office and contract, but if final decision is made against him, will resign the former.

STATE FAIR.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society met at Salem on the 17th inst. The principal business done was the revision of the Annual Premium Lists, in which several important changes were made.

In the department of Cattle a reduction in premiums has been made of some $800. Ayrshires, Holsteins and Jerseys being included in one division and Devons and Herefords in another. This list as revised, though less in amount, is far better arranged and calculated to give greater satisfaction to competitors.

In the department of horses the class of thoroughbreds has been amended by striking out sucking colts, adding brood mares with foal or with foal by side, and requiring all thoroughbred horses competing for premiums to trace their pedigree to the American or British Stud Book or the American Turf Register, or to show at least five pure direct crosses on the side of both sire and dam. In this department a class was arranged for farm teams, a new feature of the Premium List designed especially for heavy farm and carriage horses, single and in pairs. The old list of premiums for carriage horses was stricken out and a new one substituted giving premiums to family buggy and saddle animals. The old class of roadsters was stricken out, which heretofore offered premiums for such [illegible] colts, yearlings, [illegible] fillies and [illegible] class substituted giving premiums to stallion geldings and mares and single and double carriage and buggy [illegible]

The aggregate of premiums in the Speed Department was reduced about $1,100 [illegible] in this department [illegible] variety of trotting and running premiums, and has been so arranged as to save money to the Society and create more interest and excitement in the trials.

The old class of Sweepstakes for horses was also stricken out, and gold and silver medals and diplomas will be offered for the best stallion, mare, gelding and sucking colt.

In the department of Swine and Poultry the entire list of poultry was stricken out and a new one substituted.

The entrance fee in all departments for competition was reduced ten per cent, and new rules have been adopted for the examination of stock, which will be of material benefit to exhibitors. The programme, premium list, rules and regulations, act of incorporation and the names of all the officers of the Society and superintendents of the different departments were ordered to be published in pamphlet form so that the public may know months in advance the business to be transacted each day of the Fair.

The premiums on Club [illegible] Winter and Spring wheat were stricken out and premiums offered on some [illegible] varieties of wheat.

The premiums heretofore offered for the best [illegible] of birds was stricken out and premiums offered for the best exhibit of various birds destructive of fruit, vegetables and grain.

A long list of premiums was offered for articles in the Misses' Department and for boys under fourteen years of age.

The list of wild animals was changed so that they are arranged in better proportion for the premiums offered.

The premiums for Domestic Manufactures were nearly doubled, including the diplomas, medals, etc., for articles manufactured in the State and out of it.

The Executive Committee was authorized to procure wood on the grounds for the use of campers, to be sold at cost and the bare expense of delivery, to prevent the impositions that have been practiced for years, and a committee was also appointed to procure the right of way for water pipes from Mill creek to the Fair Grounds and to procure a survey of the shortest and most practicable route.

OREGON.

The water in the Upper Willamette is getting very low, and boats will [illegible] Harrisburg very much longer.

Pendleton is agitating the question to build a levee on the Umatilla river, lest when the high waters [illegible] snows come, it will overflow their town.

The Western Union Telegraph office at Salem is to be moved from its present location to the front room of the apartments now occupied by the Capital Commissioners.

Following is the list of delegates chosen in North Salem to attend the Marion County Republican Convention: [illegible] Hillman, Adam Stevens, [illegible] Hawk, W. F. [illegible], J. J. Chase.

The Corvallis Gazette says that Thos. J. Simpson, of Oneatta, who is engaged in logging, represents the timber on Yaquina Bay as exceedingly fine and abundant. He has been engaged in the same business on Puget Sound, and says the Bay timber is equal, if not superior, to that.

Mr. William Wells, of Buena Vista, states that there will be a largely increased acreage of hops grown this season in the Willamette Valley. This is a growing interest in Oregon, and promises a profitable return to those engaged in it. Mr. Wells himself has been profitably engaged in hop culture for several years past.

At a meeting of tax payers and laboring classes held in Lancaster Precinct, Lane county, last week, on motion of O. R. Bean, the delegates to the County Convention were instructed to vote for no man in the County Convention who was in favor of the State buying the Locks, and who was not in favor of repealing the present School Book Law, and support no chronic office seeker.

The Secretary of the State Agricultural Society informs the Statesman that he has just received a letter from James Vick, the great seedsman and florist of Rochester, N. Y., offering to exhibitors at our next State Fair $50 in coin premiums to be awarded by the Society as follows: Best collection of cut flowers from seeds grown or sold by him, $20; second best, $15; third best, $10; fourth best, $5. These premiums will be published in the Premium List of the Society, and Mr. Vick will forward to the Secretary a check for the amount named upon receipt of notice of such publication.

INSTALLATION OF CHIEF JUSTICE WAITE.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—According to previous announcement, the new Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States took the oath of office at noon to-day and entered upon the discharge of his duties. The court room was crowded by a large throng, one third of whom were ladies. Among the distinguished gentlemen present were Messrs. Wm. M. Evarts, J. H. Ashton, E. R. Hoar, I. J. Durant, Senator Cooper, Gen. Garfield, Representatives Eugene Hale, Kellogg and many others. The District Bar was also largely represented. Precisely at noon the crier of the Court announced, as has been customary since the death of Chief Justice Chase, "The Honorable the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States." The members of the Bar rose, and the Associate Justices, headed by Mr. Justice Clifford and marshaled by Mr. John G. Nicolay, Marshal of the Court, appeared, with Chief Justice Waite in full robes bringing up the rear. The Associate Justices then took their seats, the Chief Justice taking a seat near the desk of Mr. Middleton, the Clerk of the Court. The Crier then opened the Court. Mr. Justice Clifford directed Mr. Middleton (the Clerk) to read the commission, which being done, the oath was also administered by the Clerk. Thereupon the Chief Justice passed round to his chair, and as he approached the Court arose, and facing about received him standing. All then being seated, the Chief Justice bowed to Mr. Justice Field, who proceeded to the reading of opinions. Thus the installation was accomplished, and in future, probably until many of those now on the Bench have passed away, the Court will be announced as "the Honorable the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States." The iron-clad oath was administered to the Chief Justice in the Clerk's room before he came into Court.

The New York Herald correspondent says:

After Chief Justice Waite had taken his seat to-day there was a friendly contest between New York and Ohio as to which should have the honor of having the first member of the Bar admitted under the new Chief Justice. Mr. Evarts succeeded in attracting the attention of the Court, and Mr. Binford of New York, was, on his motion, admitted. Congressman Southard and Mr. Marsh, his competitor in the Zanesville, Ohio, district, followed, after which the new Chief Justice discovered the length, breadth and thickness of the chair filled by the late Chief Justice Chase, and assumed an attitude of repose peculiar to the Bench. The Chamber was continuously visited while the Court was in session, through the general desire to see Mr. Waite and how he bore his unexpected honors. Two or three members of the Court did not evince the greatest of cordiality toward the new comer, and the inquiry was generally made: "Wonder how he feels in a Court to which he is a stranger personally and professionally?"

A guardian of the peace in New York made his first essay as a mounted policeman one day last week, by grasping the horse's tail and attempting to climb up that way. The surgeon subsequently remarked that no horse ever had a finer opportunity or took advantage of it with such infinite scorn of the consequences.

It is rumored at Tacoma that Mr. Garfielde will resign the office of Collector for Puget Sound Revenue District, if necessary, in order to hold his contract to carry the U. S. mail between Portland and Sitka.

THE [illegible]

At the last election in California there [illegible] the only [illegible] The Independents so far triumph [illegible] these as to secure the balance of power in the Legislature The course they have pursued as legislators is a complete answer to those who say the demand for reform [illegible] rallying cry [illegible] the campaign for the purpose [illegible] forgotten when the election is past The San Francisco [illegible] Independent party that the Independents themselves could not hope to escape its [illegible] whatever their conduct might [illegible] of the Independent members of the Legislature

The public at this time probably fully understand the situation at Sacramento So far as the Independent members of the Legislature are concerned who represent the county we believe the people are well satisfied with their acts They have done all that they were pledged to do previous to the election We scarcely recollect at this moment any bill which they have supported which will not bear the closest criticism and as to useful legislation without our members it is not known what the Legislature would have done for not a reform measure has been moved which they did not originate or urge forward So far as San Francisco is concerned we may without the fear of successful contradiction say that for years as a whole we have not been so well represented as during the present session Our Independent members have received praise from every quarter except from those persons who have desired class legislation

Can so much be said of either of the political parties that have controlled the State of Oregon, each in turn hitherto Of which can it be truthfully stated that it has done all it was pledged to do before the election?" To answer this question is to put the cause of the present uprising of the people in a single word, neither From year to year, in their platforms and at the hustings both parties have promised retrenchment, economy, and reduction of taxes, and still from year to year expenses have increased, extravagance has become more general, and the tax levy has steadily advanced both by an augmentation of the assessment roll and by the increase of the per centage of the tax This is the way the party legislators have kept their pledges

And of which can it be said, as of the California Independents that its members have supported no laws that "will not bear the closest criticism?" Let the wagon road jobs and the double fee jobs and a dozen like transactions, furnish the answer

NOT A DIFFICULT QUESTION

ASTORIA, March 23 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

There are some persons here and at other places in Clatsop county who propose to vote for the Independent candidates for District officers, if good men are nominated but who do not wish to vote for an Independent State ticket These are not very numerous but there are some such in each party What are such people to do?

There is no doubt that an Independent State and county ticket would be well supported in this county and I am in a condition to know that the same is the case in Tillamook But the Independent District ticket will lead every thing

The answer to our correspondent's question appears to us to be the simplest that can be imagined. What is one to do who wants to adhere to his party ticket for State offices, and to vote for the Independent candidates for District officers? Why simply do that very thing, act like an intelligent being and not like a slave, and vote for the candidate he desires to see elected, whether he is on one ticket or another Is it a crime to scratch a ticket? Instead of a crime it is, when done from a sense of duty, the very essential act of free citizenship It is that exercise of choice of officers which distinguishes the freeman from the slave Let our Clatsop county friends vote for their party State ticket and their Independent District ticket, if that is what they wish to do, and they can go to bed on the night of the election with clear consciences A man who scratches his ticket whenever there is a better man put up by the opposition than the candidate of his party is sure to be a good citizen That is a rule without an exception And almost the converse of the proposition is the rule which fortunately is not without exceptions that a man who never scratches his party ticket, no matter what sort of men they are whose names it bears is not a safe citizen Most such men are too loyal to party to be loyal to the interests of their country True consistent independence is to vote just as much and just as little of the ticket brought out by your party or your crowd" as you please

CHARLES SUMNER'S SUCCESSOR

The contest for the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Sumner began yesterday in the General Court of Massachusetts The result of the balloting clearly shows the state of political sentiment in that body—it is unmistakably anti Butler E Rockwood Hoar, formerly Attorney General of the United States, received 78 votes Henry L Dawes received 7[illegible] votes and Benjamin R Curtis formerly an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States received 73 votes The total number of votes cast in both houses was 260, and of the 34 not accounted for above Sanford Speaker of the House received 16 Charles Francis Adams 14 and N P Banks (now in the State Senate) 4 There still remain 20 votes unaccounted for the total number of Senators and Representatives amounting to 280 We present a table of the political divisions of the General Court as now constituted which will be of interest to Butler [illegible] the remarkable [illegible] the Bay State

	Senate	House	Joint Ballot
Republicans	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Democrats	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Independents	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

It will be seen that the total vote on joint ballot is 2[illegible], and that 141 constitute a majority. Of all the candidates Mr Hoar is unquestionably most acceptable to the people of Massachusetts in the present frame of the political mind And while either Dawes Adams Banks or Curtis would make a worthy successor to the illustrious Sumner it is reasonably certain that the successful candidate must first have indubitable evidence of his soundness on the main issue in national politics Butler ism As leader of the opposition to Butler which centers in Hamilton Hall Mr Hoar has distinguished himself and this will be a powerful aid to him in the contest The members of the present General Court [illegible] the election of a Butler man It will [illegible] Mr Dawes last some strength by his course in the Senate [illegible]

Judge Curtis [illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] but he has had little to do with politics [illegible] liberal Republican [illegible] receives the support of the Butler [illegible] We think the figures [illegible] the election of Mr Hoar [illegible] two Houses will meet in joint convention

[illegible] IMPRESSION CORRECTED

Some time since in noticing an article in the Bulletin in regard to the prosecution of certain parties who were charged with perjury in connection with the Wrestling Joe' swindle we remarked in substance that we did not pretend to know whether the parties indicted were the guilty ones or whether some other person or persons had set up the imposture We learn that some persons have construed this as an insinuation that Hon W C Johnson who was one of the parties interested had planned or helped to plan the fraud Nothing of the sort was intended or so much as thought of at the time the article was written, and we learned only yesterday and with great regret that such a construction had been put upon our remarks After a personal acquaintance with him for over fifteen years we can say without qualification that no combination of circumstances short of positive demonstration would convince us that Mr Johnson is capable of such dishonesty And in a protracted interview which we had with the impostor after the imposition was exposed and in which being one of the victims of the swindle we were interested to find out the real authors of it he persisted in saying that Johnson had nothing whatever to do with setting it up

Special Agent Jayne was extremely violent in his denunciation of the journals and men who brought about the exposure of the moiety system and the scandalous Sanborn contracts So offensive were his personalities that the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means called him to order several times reminding him that he was present to give his views as an expert and not to vindicate himself as a persecuted individual On one occasion when Jayne had fairly launched on a tirade against his victims Mr Beck brought him up short with the remark Your law is very good, but your personal explanations are intolerable I appeal to the Chairman to stop them Then Jayne changed his tactics and assuming the role of outraged virtue, undertook to tell the Committee about his eminent services to the Government If he had been guilty of even one wrong let it be indelibly stamped upon him He complained that he was the object of newspaper detraction although his conduct had entitled him to the praise of the whole country and he added There is no compensation to an honest man thus performing his duty Poor Jayne How high the flight of some self sacrificing spirits to whom $300 000 is no compensation for newspaper detraction

The Atlanta (Ga) Herald rejoices at the announcement that General Ben H Hill will be a candidate for Congressman in the Ninth District of Georgia But one thing is needed to make its joy complete it demands that Robert Toombs be unchained and sent to Congress to wake things a little Which reminds us that the Buffalo (N Y) Commercial Advertiser is disposed to look with alarm on the increase of the unreconstructed element in the House It thinks the spirit of reconciliation and forgiveness is all on one side and remarks that while Semmes the pirate has been invited to visit the North no one has ever heard of such a thing as one of the Union officers being invited to traverse the South and address the people The Advertiser doesn't stop to think that numerous Northern gentlemen have gone to the South unsolicited since the war and that the experience of the people in that section has been almost as bitter as it was during the great rebellion These Northern lecturers have cost the Carolinas and Louisiana much blood and money

Mr B F Butler is a modest man We know the assertion is a startling one but who can read the annexed telegrams sent on the occasion of the confirmation of Simmons without modifying his opinion of the Essex Statesman in this most important feature

BOSTON Feb [illegible]

Benj F Butler Washington At a spontaneous meeting now being held by Republicans and Democrats at the Parker House in honor of the confirmation of Wm A Simmons as Collector of the Port of Boston congratulations are forwarded to you for your untiring and successful efforts to secure the glorious victory

JOHN R BALDWIN Chairman

THE REPLY

To [illegible] P [illegible] Your court us congratulations [illegible] the serving [illegible] the [illegible] the highest [illegible] of the Government is vindicated and your thanks are due to the [illegible] the people and not to me [illegible] congratulation

BENJAMIN F BUTLER

Wm M Evarts made a very bland, one little impromptu speech at a reception [illegible] the course of which he related the funny anecdote [illegible] earnest request [illegible] he sent [illegible] Vermont a donkey for her [illegible] She had read about donkeys but was not familiar with their peculiar vocalism [illegible] strange [illegible] to her father Dear papa I do wish you would come up here soon [illegible]

Counsel for the memorialists in the District [illegible] Columbia investigation [illegible] certain papers which show that Chittenden manager of the De Golyer Pavement Company has charged up against the names of Donn Piatt and Gen Garfield $5,000 each as having been paid them for their influence in securing paving contracts Piatt and Garfield deny that they ever received a cent of the money They suggest that Chittenden appropriated the money to his own use and then used their names to cover his tracks The Committee will inquire into the matter

It is announced that Generals Sheridan Hooker and Whipple of the National Monument Association of the Army of the Cumberland have concluded a contract with J Q A Ward of New York for an equestrian statue in bronze of General George H Thomas The statue is to be fourteen feet high and to be [illegible] Washington in 187[illegible]

THE RESOLUTIONS

We have received the authenticated copy of the [illegible] resolutions to which we referred yesterday They are as follows

The Republicans of [illegible] precinct [illegible] convention assembled declare [illegible]

1st That we have an abiding confidence in the Republican party that we point with pride to its past record and we believe it to be the party of progress [illegible]

[illegible] increase in the salaries of all State [illegible] increase [illegible] the number of members of the Legislative Assembly and [illegible] Oregon City [illegible] education in our state and hail the act of the last Assembly as a step in the right direction we believe the features of the law which compel a uniformity of school books for the entire State ought to be [illegible] and that the question [illegible] to the school [illegible] the superintendent

8th That we are in favor of rigid economy in the management of all public affairs and will support men for office at the coming election who we believe to be honest and capable and [illegible] worthy the foregoing resolutions

A RAILWAY TRAIN ON FIRE

From the N Y Times March [illegible]

The accounts of the accident which have reached us are not very clear but the car appears to have been the rear one of the train and the fire to have been caused by the falling of a lamp at its forward end The passenger who first discovered it seems to have made a fatal error in not at once giving the alarm when it might easily have been extinguished Instead of doing this he attempted as he says to avoid excitement to put it out himself by smothering it with seat cushions But one cushion after another he failed to detach and when at last he succeeded in getting one he found it too stiff to be of any use By that time the fire had gained such headway as fanned as it was by the rapid motion of the train made it impossible of extinction Why the passenger who wished to avoid excitement did not at once proclaim his alarming discovery to the conductor who seems to have been on that car, or at least at that end of the train baffles conjecture Or how it was that those on the next car ahead failed to discover the situation and signal the engineer to stop the train is equally difficult to surmise As it was the bell rope broke or had not been properly connected the conductor was unable to make his way to the engine until it was too late and so through the night and darkness the burning car sped on while the panic stricken passengers either perished in the flames or flung themselves headlong through the windows to what seemed almost certain death upon the track For more than two miles it is said, the road was strewn with the maimed and bleeding forms of men and women, who had thus endeavored to escape one form of destruction by flying to another Many perished many who escaped death will be maimed for life, and all because some one whose duty it was had neglected to see that the bell-rope was properly connected with the engine

The latest grandeur in the matter of celebrations is a banquet given by one of our Ministers in Europe in honor of the anniversary of President Grant's inauguration March 4th The day was not generally observed in Massachusetts

CITY.

FLAG AT HALF MAST.—Yesterday we heard frequent inquiries as to the occasion of the flag over the Headquarters of the Military Department being displayed at half mast. Many persons were under the impression that some prominent officer connected with the army had died [illegible] the case. The flag was floating [illegible] in honor of the memory of the late Millard Fillmore, ex President of the United States, who departed this life about two weeks [illegible]. Intelligence of the death of Mr Fillmore was received the day following [illegible] the Associated Press dispatches [illegible] the Military Department of the Columbia did not receive official notification of the fact until [illegible] According to military rules [illegible] it is a custom at every post throughout the [illegible] to be displayed at half mast [illegible] to sunset of the day following the receipt of the intelligence. In obedience to this inflexible rule the flag yesterday hung [illegible] significance at the usual height [illegible] In addition to this observance of respect to the memory of the departed, salutes will be fired at every military post in the United States where ordnance can be procured, as follows: [illegible] at sunrise one gun every half hour during the day and the usual national salute [illegible]—at sunset. This order will be observed to-day at the garrison at Vancouver.

BARKENTINE JANE A. FALKINBURG.—This vessel arrived at Honolulu on [illegible]. The following is her memoranda: Sailed from the Columbia river on January [illegible]. First three days out had strong WSW winds and snowing. Lat 4[illegible] N Long 130° W., had a heavy SE gale which lasted for four days; split jib and foresail, and carried away head gear. Lat 37 30 N Long 134 20 W., had a gale from WSW for 24 hours. Lat 31 N Long 134 W took NE trades strong. Sighted east end of Molokai on the morning of February 9th arriving in Honolulu at 4 P M. same day after a passage of 19 days. She carried the following cargo: 301 sks bran 300 do oats 10 kegs dried apples 200 qr sks flour 4 cs ham, 140 bxs apples 106 cords bolt lumber 1,500 ft lumber 16 bbls salmon to Castle & Co 7 bxs apples to J D Carver 143 cs bread, 700 qr sks flour to C Brewer & Co. 200 do do to Geo. McLean 160 do do 12 baskets Chinese beans 1 do oyster sov 1 roll matting 8 pkgs China fringe to Wing Wo Chung.

MEMORANDA.—To Captain Forbes of the bark Mattie Macleay, we are indebted for late files of Honolulu papers and also the memoranda of his vessel. By it we learn that the Mattie Macleay sailed from Honolulu on the 20th of February at 3 o'clock P M. For two days the vessel was detained by calms in sight of the islands. From March 9th to the 16th encountered a succession of heavy gales from the northwest. The vessel arrived off Tillamook Head on Sunday 15th [illegible] twenty days from land to land. Before crossing the bar she was becalmed off fifth days. The following is the memoranda of the Mattie Macleay from Portland to Honolulu: Left the Columbia river January 19th had strong SE and southerly gales the first ten days then light southerly winds. Took the trades February 1st. Made the Island of Molokai February 4th at 3 P M and at 10 P M came to anchor outside—twenty five days from Astoria.

WORK SUSPENDED.—Last Saturday evening at the special meeting of the Common Council, a resolution was introduced by Mr Besser calling the attention of the Chief Engineer to the manner in which the new building opposite the St. Charles Hotel was being constructed and directing that that officer enforce the provisions of the Fire Limit Ordinance. It was urged strongly by several members of the Council that the manner in which that building was being constructed, is a palpable violation of the ordinance in question. Work has been suspended for several days so we presume notice has been served on the contractor of the action of the Council. Mr Hunsaker, who is building the structure, has been sent for. Before the building can be allowed to be erected, some radical modifications will have to be made in the plan material used etc. These necessary changes we presume will be made, and the work proceed.

NEW WHARF CO.—Messrs. J A Strowbridge T M Richardson and C H. Woodard filed articles of incorporation yesterday in the County Clerk's office for the "Pacific Wharf and Warehouse Co." As set forth in the articles the business and occupation of the enterprise is to engage in building, owning, leasing, using and disposing of wharves and warehouses in the city of Portland at a point or points along the Willamette river south of Taylor street. The office and place of business will be Portland. Capital stock of the corporation is fixed at $5,000 amount of each share, $100. Duration of the corporation 20 years.

ORGANIZED.—D G W C T [illegible] W. Ryan organized North Portland Lodge No 201 I O G T., on Monday evening March 23d. The following are the officers elected and installed: W C T J B Roberts W V T Edith J Sutherland Secretary Wallace P Strubie [illegible] Secretary Enoch Turner Treasurer Mrs J M. Roberts Chaplain, T [illegible] Marshall W H Grenfell Guard Henry Brown Sentinel, George H Farr, L D [illegible] Jones. The Lodge meets Monday evening at Moore's Hall corner Ninth and D streets.

TIME-TABLE CHANGES.—Quite a change in running time of the train on the Westside Railroad will take place on and after next Monday. The train will leave this city at 3 P M daily arriving at St Joseph at 7 P M. Returning the train will leave St. Joseph at [illegible] A M and will arrive in Portland at 10 A M.

NEW AND INTERESTING.

A new and interesting book has just been issued by A. Roman & Co., of San Francisco which will probably be largely sold in Oregon. It is entitled "The Golden State, or History of the Region West of the Rocky Mountains, embracing California, Oregon, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Washington, British Columbia and Alaska. The author is R Guy McClellan formerly a resident and practicing lawyer in our State, a writer of much clearness and force. An experience of seventeen years residence on this coast enables Mr McClellan to speak of men, events and things in a fair and intelligent manner. The work is [illegible] with sketches of the grand and beautiful scenery for which our coast is so famous—Yosemite and the Columbia being prominent.

There is also on our table a work issued by the Continental Publishing Company of St Louis which ought to be in every household in the land. The title is "Cyclopedia of Things Worth Knowing, or 5,000 Wants Supplied, containing a remedy for every [illegible] and a Method for Every Difficulty and Emergency of Daily Life," by Dr J C Whitehill, formerly Medical Director of the U S Army and one of the leading physicians of America. The title sufficiently indicates the character of the work. [illegible] the reputation of the author is a sufficient guaranty of its merit.

We would advise the people of [illegible] to examine these books when called upon by Mr Coulter, who is now engaged in [illegible] for Portland [illegible] subscriptions [illegible] books that will pay to buy.

By the courtesy of Mr [illegible] Chief of the [illegible] we are enabled to [illegible] the following [illegible]

Total arrests in 187[illegible] for violation of city ordinances was 1,110, as follows: Drunk on the street [illegible] drunk and disorderly [illegible] Total 810.

The character of the other arrests [illegible] not prepared to report as the reports of the Commissioners are not [illegible] brought [illegible]

In addition to the arrests above named the police made [illegible] arrests for [illegible] offenses making the total arrests of the police for 18[illegible] [illegible] of which [illegible] were [illegible] and 14 [illegible]

The number of saloons in the first quarter of 1872 was 84, for first quarter of 1873 80, for first quarter of 1874 71, being a decrease of 10 [illegible] in the last two years.

The cost of our police system for 18[illegible] [illegible] appeared by the City Auditor's report of [illegible] 1874 was $6,000 [illegible] per month or $[illegible] per day.

There was received into the City Treasury for fines $5,000 received for liquor licenses $15,000. Total $20,900.

Subtract these receipts from the expenditures and we have a balance of expense to be paid by taxation of $15,100.

SCHEDULE [illegible]

Number of arrests made 1,219, viz for being drunk and disorderly 1,111, arrested on other charges 108. Of this amount (108) 14 were arrested for fighting, 16 as vagrants, 9 for using abusive language, [illegible] for selling liquor without a license, [illegible] for fast driving. Making 60 offenses out of that number that undoubtedly had their origin in intoxicating drink and but for liquor would not have occurred. Deducting these 60 from the 108 and we have but 48 arrests by this large and expensive arm of our City Government for the year 18[illegible] other than those brought about by intemperance.

Summary.—Total arrests through intemperance 1,161 for other purposes 48.

In addition to the foregoing, Mr Northrup read the following:

There was manufactured in this collection district in the year 1873 [illegible] barrels of beer which is equal to 204,778 gallons—nearly a quarter of a million. The amount of tax collected from liquor dealers and brewers in Oregon in 1873 was $7,[illegible]

Gov Washburn of Massachusetts says nine tenths of the crimes are caused by rum. Last year in Boston 14,871 persons were committed to prison and of these 12,002 were the result of rum.

Rev Mr Atkinson read some statistical matter bearing on the subject of intemperance from the proceedings of the Seventh National Temperance Convention held at Saratoga New York.

Rev Mr Izer arose and after delivering a most powerful eloquent and impressive address in behalf of the temperance cause presented the following statistical data in relation to the traffic. There has been consumed in the United States for the year ending June 30 1871 the following quantities of intoxicating liquors:

Gallons of spirit	64,451,[illegible]
Gallons of beer	2[illegible]
Gallons of ale and porter	10,700,000
Total	288,636,4[illegible]

There are in this country upwards of 3,000 breweries consuming annually [illegible] bushels of barley and 18,000 pounds of hops. The proportion of licensed liquor dealers was one to every 250 of population, of places where it is sold one to every 150.

The amount expended for ardent spirits for this period was $600,000,000, three times the amount invested in flour for the same year.

Think of it enough to have supplied three nations as great as our own with bread and this while famine was sending its hundreds of thousands down to death in Persia and elsewhere over this broad earth.

We have seen that in 1871 the total number of gallons consumed was 288,[illegible] In 1873 we find the imports were [illegible] gallons for which nearly $12,000,000 of U S gold coin went out of our country. There were produced here 330,[illegible] gallons making a total of [illegible] an advance of nearly 100,000,000 gallons in two years, 50,000,000 gallons a year or in such a ratio that the number of gallons would double upon us every five and a half years, and this startling [illegible] is in favor of this evil is the rule respecting it. We are no exception. In the United Kingdom of Great Britain in the year 1860 there were consumed 321,[illegible] gallons. Sir Edward Sullivan states of Great Britain what is acknowledged of our land that 80 per cent of all the crime pauperism and insanity is caused directly or indirectly by drink. Leaving the cost of police out of the question in 1867 Great Britain paid [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] were expended in drink £14,000,000 [illegible] of grain was wasted in the business [illegible] would call your attention [illegible] of extortion [illegible] the poor drunkard—70,000,000 against 500,000,000. Leave to [illegible] other than distilled liquor and remember cost of labor still must be an awful extortion—£144,000,000 or $720,000,000. It cost Great Britain [illegible]. Calculate if you can the moral degradation to the country. Remember its 1,000,000 paupers in idleness its 100,000 criminals in jails, its 100,000 [illegible] its [illegible] 600,000 habitual ones and add this cost to your [illegible] you have the [illegible] nation of one year's debauch [illegible] what proportions it has grown [illegible] slow people what have been its great strides in our young and first America. [illegible] was computed that 30,000 died annually from strong drinks. In New York State the liquor traffic for one year cost and wasted more than $[illegible] [illegible] was five times the cost of the civil government [illegible] government school and seminaries of learning together with the support of all [illegible]

INVADING THE SALOONS.

Yesterday afternoon about [illegible] dozen ladies marched to Mr Thomas Shute's [illegible] on First street just south of Taylor and after asking permission were admitted [illegible] adjoining the bar when they began [illegible] singing. Several prayers were offered by the ladies and several hymns were sung [illegible]. The saloon was crowded with men who [illegible] the bark [illegible]

[illegible] with [illegible] rudely [illegible] one of [illegible] but their efforts did not [illegible]. The ladies were treated politely by [illegible] of the saloon [illegible] crowd had gathered [illegible] were followed some [illegible] led to the Methodist church where after [illegible] marched to the [illegible] Mr [illegible] [illegible] declaration [illegible] that [illegible] the ladies [illegible] prayer meeting to [illegible]. They did not [illegible] long, to which Mr [illegible] the ladies [illegible] be going [illegible] opportunity to hear [illegible] the ladies should [illegible] in the [illegible] way which they proceeded to do. [illegible] the saloon was crowded and the barkeepers were kept busy dealing out liquid [illegible] the time the ladies were proceeding with their prayer and hymn [illegible] considerable display while drinking and even offered glasses of liquor to the ladies while they were kneeling in prayer. At the conclusion of each hymn and prayer [illegible] stamping of feet followed [illegible] one [illegible] particular being [illegible] demonstrations of [illegible] approval of the course of the women. Some person in the crowd urged him to remain quiet and [illegible] how to respect the ladies. He was quieted. The crowds began to increase in numbers and when the little band of women retired the streets were crowded with people. The ladies marched up Second street followed by a number of men and boys who expected to see them stop at one of the dives [illegible] Court of Death but their expectations were not realized for the ladies proceeded on towards the Methodist Church where they disbanded and went home. The crowds remained on the streets for some time [illegible] the ladies would appear again in a new quarter. The subject of conversation among the bystanders was [illegible] the Temperance question and diverse opinions were expressed. Larger delegations will be formed to-day and renewed efforts will be made among the saloon keepers with what result we shall be better able to state in our next issue.

THREATENED INDIAN DIFFICULTIES

We have kindly been permitted to make the following extracts from a private letter received in this city last evening by a well known gentleman. The letter is dated the 16th inst and is written from Camp Harney. The writer, a gentleman of well known veracity and the contents are entitled to credit [illegible] be [illegible]. The letter says:

By request of your old friend Mr Frank McBean I write a few lines to post you in regard to Indian difficulties now transpiring on the Malheur Reservation. Mr Damon came in from Canyon City last Saturday with Mr Bean bringing a communication from Mr Linville agent at Malheur [illegible] Col Otis at Camp Harney stating that his life had been threatened by the Indians on the Reservation and requesting the Commander at Camp Harney to send him without delay a detachment of soldiers to protect himself and the employees on the Reservation; that every white man on the reservation firmly believed that the Indians are all determined on war. Mr Damon and all the men there declare they will not remain on the Reservation any longer unless troops are sent for their protection. Old Winnemucca and his band have already left the Reservation and Otis and his followers have threatened to massacre every white man in the country.

There is considerable excitement at Camp Harney over the startling news. Major Cresson with a detachment of 25 men will leave Camp Harney for the seat of war about next Wednesday. The above facts stated I obtained from Mr Bean who heard the communication from Mr Linville read. Should you deem it advisable you are at liberty to make this news public.

The snow here is [illegible] and a half feet deep and the weather quite cold.

P S—I omitted to state above that before McBean left the post to-day there was a large force of men sent out along the trail on the route leading to the Reservation to shovel the snow away. The troops believe that they can reach the Agency quicker by the route you came last summer than to go by Canyon City and they are very anxious to get through to the assistance of the Reservation at the earliest possible moment.

CHROMOS

AN ANNOYING BUSINESS

There is such a thing as having any [illegible] too bad this chromo business is [illegible] getting among the [illegible] papers, and it is annoying to the people. We have stood the constant arrival of daubs and paid the express charges without a murmur until this last indignity was heaped upon us [illegible] the lion within us is aroused. A few days ago [illegible] manly express man came in with a flat package. Instinctively we knew it contained colored pictures of highly-colored females, or impossible dogs [illegible] we paid the charges and at leisure opened the package. Not content with sending us one, there were three pictures in the package and, to make the offense the more heinous the confounded switch came from a Christian paper, the Christian at Work or some such improbability. We have hoarded those hideous [illegible] tures for three days. They have frightened some of our best customers out of the office. We took one of them to the barn and the cow saw it has persistently refused to give milk since. That picture is a terror. In the foreground is an old mule and two mule colts, lying down all unconscious that right above two wolves are just ready to pounce upon them. The artist seems to have thrown a great deal of soul into the ears of the smallest mule colt and the tail of one of the wolves is woven in to his hind legs so perfectly that you cannot tell where leg ends and tail begins. The whole effect of the picture reminds the true artist of a jar of preserved huckleberries spilled on the cellar stairs and stepped in by a number eight foot, in a state of anxiety. (One of our frequent visitors says the picture represents a sheep and two lambs instead of a mare and two colts, and instead of wolves there are two dogs. Well, there is no artistic eye but has its faults. It may be sheep and dogs but we would have taken our solemn affidavit they were mules and wolves.) But this is neither here nor there. What we want to illustrate is the cheek of that Christian at Work. Yesterday was the holy Sabbath, and we received on that day a letter from the supreme idiot who runs the Christian at Work informing us that the aforesaid pictures had been sent us, and that we were expected to do advertising to the extent of $20. Now we are nothing but poor, weak creatures, and don't want a row with a Christian at Work but if worse comes to worse, we will perish honorably with our face to the foe before we will do one cent's worth of advertising—any more than this article—for those blasted things, and the Christian can work on us all winter without success. Twenty dollars! What do you take us for?—La Crosse Democrat

Washington's Birthday is a sort of fictitious holiday. We are not a sentimental people, and we revere the name of Washington about as much from the sense of duty and early education as for any reason. It must be confessed that, judged from our standard, Washington was not a very great man. He happened to be the first president, but that only entitles him to stand as a sort of historical landmark. No one would concede more readily than his warmest admirers his entire lack of qualities which would raise him to eminence now. He never attended a caucus, much less manipulated a primary election in the interest of his employers, and to political strategy he never turned his attention. Among us he might aspire to a seat in the Legislature in some "off year," when no senator was to be chosen or when the lobby was not very flush but higher honors we reserve for different men. Fancy the courtly Virginian in the United States Senate, sitting between Hippler of Oregon, and a carpet-bagger whose stolen money bought him a certificate of election. He would long for the retirement of Mount Vernon, and we should all rejoice that such an impracticable was no longer to sit among our Carpenters and Camerons. The party could could find more useful men. The distribution of patronage, according to our method, he couldn't be expected to understand. Honesty and efficiency were the only thing he looked for in a public official, and the demands of "the workers" would be something which he wouldn't duly respect. Great monopolies would pronounce him an enemy to progress and no plausible gentleman would get much of a mortgage on his vote for a few shares of stock in a corrupt corporation. He was a perfect old fogy. He never lectured and his earnings in office or out would look ridiculously small to a Government contractor. He was not what we call a practical man, but had too many notions and crotchets in his head. We are saying nothing against his personal purity but he wasn't just the man to get along with easily. Great men were not as plenty in the early days of the Republic as now, or we shouldn't be compelled to have business interrupted out of respect for a man whose spotless integrity and entire forgetfulness of self, when his country needed his services, are his chief claims to remembrance.—Boston Herald, Feb 23

A DOG, UNATTENDED, CARRIES THE MAIL ONCE A WEEK

[From the Marshall (Minn.) Prairie Schooner.]

Mr. C. Prosser is a hunter and trapper who lives at Lake of Two Woods, Dakota, twelve miles west of the Minnesota line. Several settlers live near him and as they have no regular mail service, letters and papers are conveyed between the Two Woods settlement and Capt. Herricks at the State line, by private enterprise. This service has for some time been performed by a dog belonging to Mr. Prosser. The mail is placed within a small sack and tied about the dog's neck, when he is told to go, and he goes—never once having failed to reach his destination without delay. Capt. Herrick overhauls the mail, gives the shaggy mail carrier a good dinner and then [illegible] the Two Woods mail about his neck when he is again away on the return trip. There is no more faithful carrier in Uncle Sam's service than "Curly" has proven himself to be. While performing this duty it is impossible for man or beast to approach him. Capt. Herrick once met him on the road and endeavored to relieve him of his burden but "Curly" was off like a shot never once halting until he had arrived at the Captain's own door. One day last week Mr. Prosser came to Marshall with a load of furs, and brought "Curly" with him. We were favored with a call from the noble animal and his master and with several others listened with interest to the facts here related. "Curly" is a fine looking dog, rather larger than medium size, has long curly hair, a well shaped head, a good natured eye and is of the breed commonly called Spaniels. He was much pleased at receiving so much attention and seemed to understand all that was being said to him. Much better would it be for some men of high station did they possess a tithe of this dog's fidelity to public trust reposed in them. Curly is perfectly satisfied to work for his board and never hankers after back pay, or a salary steal. Should Dakota see fit to elect him Delegate to Congress next fall he would undoubtedly reflect credit upon the Territory, and prove far [illegible] one qualification, at least [illegible] of the biped members.

A BOLD LEAP FOR LIFE.—It takes a bold man to leap even for life from a train of cars going thirty [illegible] an hour but it was done and apparently with no great personal injury on Monday on the Harlem road. A New York sheriff with two prisoners, Charles Tallman and Horace Leveridge handcuffed together started to take his charge from White Plains to Albany to prison. While the train was going very rapidly the two men suddenly rose and started for the door. Leveridge got outside and jumped. Tallman was caught in the [illegible]. The train was stopped and the neighborhood aroused and in about an hour the sheriff's [illegible] hundred dollars reward offered was earned by some worthy resident. The man it seems, had at White Plains depot quietly pulled a hairpin from a lady's head who sat near him and had picked the handcuff lock with that. When captured he was somewhat bruised by his fall and very wet from swimming a creek that he had plunged in but he was alive and active, which would probably have [illegible] the case with [illegible] of the train who might have undertaken to brave so many dangers.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

T[illegible] 1874

Exchange on New York [illegible]

Exchange on San Francisco [illegible] per cent premium

Our local money market presents no features of importance [illegible] heretofore noted [illegible] generally being towards a rate of comparative [illegible] [illegible] condition of the market a few months [illegible] the city and appearances now [illegible] high rates [illegible] heretofore prevalent in our city and state a fact which [illegible] will be a source of congratulation among those who [illegible] our [illegible] interests [illegible] agricultural [illegible] extensively developed. [illegible] but the country cannot be [illegible] property. The great crops have been well sold, our [illegible] continue upon a healthy scale, while our imports are not [illegible] have they risen to the old extravagant figure.

From the Eastern cities comes the word that money is abundant. All the banks [illegible] Western cities have good balances at a low rate of interest, in New York and Chicago, and this circumstance is unusual at this season of the year can only be accounted for by the fact that the home demand, at the usual high rates—say ten per cent—does not exist. In all the large cities of the East it is well known that the loaning institutions find it difficult to use their funds profitably for at least prudently. One of the causes of the unusual abundance of money is the almost total cessation of the conversion of floating into fixed capital, the [illegible] of which was so greatly instrumental in causing the panic. The substantial stoppage of railway building despite the reduced prices of labor iron and other material, is far from being the only instance of this. In the existing uncertainty as to the probable worth in gold of a greenback dollar a year hence produced by apprehended legislative tinkering with the finances no one cares to build factories, foundries, workshops or to open mines and thus our rapid forward movement in the direction has been temporarily arrested.

Commercial Statistics.

The report of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington now in press contains statistics of foreign trade of the United States for the month ending October 31, 1873, and for the nine months ending at the same period as compared with the corresponding time in 18[illegible]. From advance sheets we gather the following:

Imports in October	1873	[illegible]
	187[illegible]	[illegible]
Exports	187[illegible]	[illegible]
	1872	[illegible]

The value of foreign commodities remaining in warehouse October 1, 187[illegible] was $[illegible] against $[illegible] on October 31, 18[illegible]. Allowing for the difference in the warehouse account the imports for the nine months ending October 31, 18[illegible] exceed the domestic and foreign exports combined by $[illegible] while for the same period of 1872 the excess of imports over exports was $128,[illegible]

The following table shows the number and tonnage of vessels engaged in foreign trade, which entered and cleared from the United States during the twelve months ending October 31, 18[illegible] and 18[illegible] respectively:

187[illegible]	Entered No.	Tons	Cleared No.	Tons
American vessels	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Foreign vessels	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Totals	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
187[illegible]
American vessels	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Foreign vessels	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Totals	30,217	[illegible]	[illegible]	11,046,011

An examination of the foregoing shows that of the total trade by water during the [illegible] months ending October 31, 1873 only 2[illegible] per cent was in American vessels and for the corresponding period of 1872 [illegible] per cent was carried in American vessels.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—In this cereal the utmost quiet prevails as to transactions, while receipts continue to be tolerably liberal. These are of lots heretofore purchased in the interior and held for speculation or awaiting transportation. The vessels here to load grain only two in number, have their cargoes engaged as have also the two others now nearly due and hence, exporters are not urging the market while but few lots are offering and large quantities cannot be placed at anything above our last quotation $[illegible] per cental. Millers [illegible] are [illegible] only supplied in limited quantities and will require a great proportion of the [illegible] in this valley to run on until [illegible] mountains however this [illegible] likely to be carried over is much larger [illegible] with cheaper transportation that section could [illegible] several [illegible] the present season.

FLOUR—The stocks in store are somewhat increased and orders are filled on terms favorable to buyers though reported rates have not depreciated. Choice or standard brands of extra are [illegible] at $[illegible] per bbl outside brands $[illegible] fine $[illegible] superfine $[illegible]. Shipments to San Francisco are paying light margins but continue to be quite liberal both by steamer and sail. We do not now apprehend any important fluctuations in this staple until the incoming of another crop of wheat.

OATS—The news from the San Francisco market indicates that prices are rather unusually sustained for the season, and hence our market, which might be expected to droop at this time is still kept up to [illegible] bushel sacks included.

BARLEY—The market is tolerably well supplied the principal demand being for local consumption. The range of quotations is $1 [illegible]

FEED—The supply is liberal and sales are made with rather more difficulty. We quote bran at $13 ton, chops middlings etc $2[illegible] shorts $[illegible]. These quotations include sacks estimated at $[illegible] per ton.

HAY—Jobbers are paying $12@13 for good timothy and selling at $16.

POTATOES—Quite large supplies have reached our market recently and have been readily taken at figures ranging from [illegible] bushel for shipment to San Francisco.

ONIONS are scarcer and in fair demand at $1 [illegible] @ [illegible] 100 lb.

APPLES—But few choice lots are to be found and sell readily for the home trade and shipment at [illegible] 60 cents ℔ box.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand for Apples is fairly active at [illegible] cents ℔ in sacks and [illegible] in kegs. Plums with pits are dull at [illegible] pitless quotable at [illegible].

BACON—The receipts are light and prices well sustained though low. We [illegible] furnished quotations at 10 cents ℔ for Sides [illegible] shoulders and [illegible] for Ham.

LARD—The supply is good and [illegible] quotations 12 cents ℔ in kegs and [illegible].

BUTTER—A common article is plentiful at prices ranging from 10@18 cents ℔ while a first rate article is quoted at [illegible] and receipts of California butter [illegible] while Oregon butter is quoted [illegible] the San Francisco market at 22½ ℔—an anomalous condition in the two markets which reflects no credit on our State.

CHEESE—Oregon made [illegible] an advance on quotations last given [illegible] are now held at 18 a 20c ℔.

EGGS—The market is overstocked and as [illegible] noted last week prices which can be secured for large lots have dropped [illegible] condition of recent receipts [illegible] those earlier in the season.

CHICKENS—There is a very fair [illegible] lots [illegible] readily sell at $[illegible] dozen while choice are held at $[illegible]. The supply is small.

BEEF CATTLE—The heavy loss of cattle east of the Cascades whence we draw large supplies in the fall each year together with the poor condition in which many herds in that section have [illegible] through winter leads to some anxiety as to future prices but as yet our market is without important advance. We quote choice young [illegible] and inferior [illegible].

MUTTON SHEEP—The arrivals are limited and fair conditioned lots are in good demand at [illegible].

TALLOW—The quotable price is 5@6 cts ℔ 100 pounds.

HIDES—We notice quite large shipments by each outgoing steamer for San Francisco and buyers take all offering at [illegible] ℔ for green [illegible] for green salted and 1[illegible] for dry, if undamaged.

WOOL—Transactions at present are only of small lots, purchased by agents of State mills. Prices are unchanged from our last report. The few fleeces of the spring clip offered in the San Francisco market and reported by telegraph sold at a lower figure than was expected but can hardly be counted on as establishing spring prices for the season.
